

Where Madness Is Born

Some cities are just made for collectors. We checked out three places—San Francisco, Paris, and Buenos Aires—that you won't be able to leave empty-handed

SAN FRANCISCO

PART 2: FOODIE TREATS

GOODY, GOODY!
Clockwise from top: Yo-kan (a Japanese sweet) from Nijiya Market; olive oil from the Ferry Building; preserves from Bi-Rite; caramels from Rainbow Foods; fig jam from Bi-Rite.

The perfect end to this shopping weekend is the famed Ferry Building, a gastronome's holy grail of local vendors selling everything from cured meats to gluten-free treats. Grab a wax-sealed bottle of McEvoy Ranch Olive Oil.
