

california

HOME+DESIGN

ECO REPORT

FARTHER AFIELD

McEvoy Ranch

This Petaluma ranch helped lead the farm-to-table movement with its organic olive oil and its popular tours and lunches, where the freshest ingredients become a gourmet meal right in front of your eyes. But things just got a little greener with the installation of a new 97-foot-tall wind turbine. The windmill now provides 100 percent of the power needed for the oil production, proving a little breeze can go a long way. mcevoyranch.com.

